

Les Fradkin

LES FRADKIN - "Mr. MIDI Guitar"

Les Fradkin has been on the cutting edge of Guitar Synthesis since the dawn of MIDI back in 1983. But his experience with synthesis and sampling stretches even further back to 1970 when he began a long and distinguished career as an Artist, Composer, Producer and session Mellotron and Guitar player in New York City and London.

He's a Guitar Synthesizer Virtuoso and 21st Century music innovator on the Starr Labs Ztar. He was an original member of The Broadway Show-"Beatlemania" when he portrayed George Harrison and played lead guitar in the hit Broadway musical from 1977 through 1979.

In the early 80's, he pioneered the introduction of tapeless MIDI recording with the SynthAxe and Synclavier scoring many national jingles and TV film music.

Les' CD's have racked up over 300,000 downloads on the internet since 1999!

Using a blend of Rock, Electronic, Progressive and Neo Classical signposts, Les' new CD "One Link Between Them" is made totally with the Ztar Z7S and opens up a new door to a sound which has thrilled music fans the world over.

» Visit Our profile on synthmusician.com

